

Vendor Notification Attachments

Earlier versions of BuySpeed allowed users to include attachments when creating email notifications to vendors. However, this functionality caused problems when users attached documents that exceeded the size limits of the email gateway, resulting in rejected messages. New functionality uses the same bulk mail/notification process as in previous versions. However, instead of sending attachments with the email/notification, the message refers to an attachment that is available to download from within ProcureAZ. Vendors must login and download the attachment themselves, rather than overloading the email client of the agency or the vendor with multiple large attachments.

NOTIFICATIONS WITH ATTACHMENTS (RFIs – REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION, ETC.)

Below is an example email/notification received by the vendor showing an attachment is waiting to be downloaded:

Instead of a physical attachment, the file name of the attached document is provided. Vendors must login to their profile to retrieve the attachment. Once logged in they have access to a new tab called 'Vendor Communication'. The Vendor Communication tab holds the history of all notifications sent to this vendor using the BuySpeed Messenger service. This tab displays a number in parentheses indicating the total number of notifications the vendor has received:

When the vendor views this tab, they see the five most recent notifications and the linked attachments. They may click the hyperlinked attachment title to download the attachments associated with the listed notification. If there are more than 5 notifications, a 'view more' link will display to show older notifications.
